ENGAGING YOUTH IN BUILDING PEACEFUL AND INCLUSIVE SOCIETIES

– Plenary meeting, Trusteeship Chamber

TUESDAY
16 APRIL

Lead entities: UNFPA, MGCY and the United Network of Young Peacebuilders (UNOY Peacebuilders)
UN co-organizers: UNDP, UNODC, UNAOC, UNODA, OHCHR and Global Youth Caucus on SDG16 (GYC on SDG16).

The session will underscore the crucial role of youth in shaping sustainable solutions amidst the current turbulent global landscape and the pivotal year of 2024, marked by historic elections and critical decision-making processes. Against the backdrop of escalating conflicts, pervasive polarization, and persistent crises, this session emphasises youth's pivotal role in promoting peace, justice, human rights and inclusive development. By addressing the barriers to meaningful youth participation, including mistrust between youth and governments, discriminatory practices, financial barriers and protection concerns, this session aims to explore opportunities for innovation and collaboration and foster an environment where young people can actively shape their societies. By leveraging the frameworks of the Youth, Peace, and Security Agenda and the New Agenda for Peace, this session seeks to enhance young people's participation in democratic governance and peacebuilding efforts, thereby realizing the transformative potential of the SDGs and fostering a more just and sustainable world for generations to come.
