APRIL 2022

Launch of informal consultations among all Member States, drawing from on the assessments and recommendations by the Bureaux of the functional commissions and expert bodies and the Bureau of ECOSOC. Member States will also decide on the format of the outcome of the review, as it is not specified in GA resolution 75/290 A.

8-9 JUNE 2022

Management Segment meetings of the Council, where the outcome of the review could be considered.

JULY 2022

Final deadline for conclusion of the review process.

<sup>1</sup> The review will apply to the functional commissions and expert bodies of ECOSOC. In addition to their different governance structure, which includes their Committee of the Whole chaired by the Member State presiding the session, regional commissions are not included in this review also due to the fact that their work has already been reviewed within the context of the process of the repositioning of the UN development system, particularly the repositioning of the regional assets of the UN development system.

<sup>2</sup> As many functional commissions and expert bodies will hold their sessions after this deadline, and some expert bodies already held their session before the beginning of the exercise, it is important to note that the questions that serve as focus of the assessments are not based only on the current sessions but on issues that are long-standing and therefore that the respective membership can deliberate on during intersession.
