Plenary

At its 9th plenary meeting, on 16 February 2022, the Economic and Social Council, recalling its decision 2021/213 of 24 February 2021 and noting that, while the situation with regard to the coronavirus disease (COVID-19) pandemic and its related impact on meetings at United Nations premises seems to be improving, there remain limitations on meetings within the United Nations premises and uncertainties around international travel to meetings and sessions, decided that the sessional bodies and the subsidiary organs of the Council, where, following informal consultations, in the view of their presiding officer, a plenary meeting of the sessional body concerned or the subsidiary organ concerned is not practicable owing to the COVID-19 pandemic, may apply, mutatis mutandis, the procedure set out in decision 2020/205 of 3 April 2020, entitled "Procedure for taking decisions of the Economic and Social Council during the coronavirus disease (COVID-19) pandemic", during the 2022 session of the Council.
