Key messages from the CDP in 2023

There has been an overall deterioration of the circumstances of countries recently graduated or scheduled to graduate, which face limited national capacity to address the challenges of multiple crises. Greater support is required to ensure smooth transition. Recommended extension of preparatory period for Solomon Islands.

Just transition cannot be separated from global climate justice and common but differentiated responsibilities. Just transition strategies in one country should not push people further behind in others, particularly poorer ones. Strategies must be formulated through inclusive dialogue, reflecting local needs, priorities and realities as well as historical responsibilities.

Call for urgent changes to the debt relief process: country-owned macrofiscal framework, clear, agreed upon, inclusive.

Importance of efficient allocation of financing sources including compensation for losses and damages for climate change, account to be taken of historical carbon debt.

Need to adopt preventive actions to avoid future debt crises.

Call for a new generation of VNRs with in-depth analysis of successes and failures, policy insights, identification of structural obstacles; enhanced stakeholder participation.
